The achievements and significance of MEO-P in 2022 can be summarized as follows. First, it was resumed as a face-to-face program for the first time since 2019, overcoming various difficulties caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

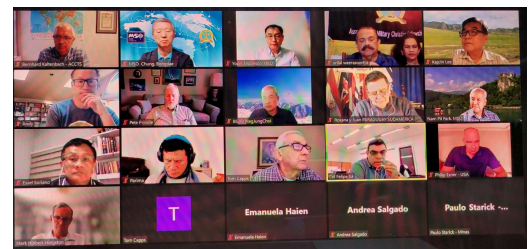

Second, educational programs and field visits necessary for the leaders of the AMCF were provided in a way to increase the effectiveness of the program. Third, it gave a good opportunity to military and civilian churches to recognize the importance of military missions by allowing them to conduct various activities including prayer, worship, sponsoring and support in cooperation with MSO. Fourth, it actively exploited the concept of the Combined Assistance and Training Team (CATT) by the use of a combined instructor team consisting of 3 PSOs' best instructors to provide state-of-art education and training to the program participants. Fifth, it is highly expected that those who have completed the program will contribute greatly to the activities of their national MCFs, and to those of the AMCF as well.

2 AMCF Activities

- 1) General Essel Soriano, the incoming President of the AMCF, and the Chief Executives of 3 PSOs had a special meeting during the MEO Program period from June 23 (Thu) to 24 (Fri) in the Elders' Conference Room of the Naval Central Chapel. At this meeting, after exchanging greetings and introducing themselves, the Chief Executives gave Gen Soriano a briefing on the ministry activities of the AMCF and 3 PSOs. Discussions continued on the AMCF President's inauguration ceremony and pending issues related to preparations for the Brazilian World Conference 2024.

- 2) The P&P for the Brazilian World Conference was held online from 21:00 to 23:00 on June 30, hosted by General Srilal Weerasooriya, President of the AMCF. The World Conference Preparatory Committee, the relevant AMCF Vice Presidents, and representatives of 3 PSOs participated.

The participants prayed for the 2024 World Conference, reviewed the preparations so far and discussed future plans.

- 3) On July 9 (Sat), from 13:00 to 14:00, LTC Andrew Tzeng, the East Asia VP, hosted an online meeting. The representatives of Taiwan, Japan, Mongolia, the USA and Korea were in attendance. In the meeting, each country representative reported the latest ministry activities of his/her MCF. The representative of the Korean MCF (KMCF) gave a briefing on preparations for the 2022 East Asia Regional Conference. The issues relating to the participation of the 2024 World Conference were also discussed.
